Standing on the edge away from all the rest and Biting my lip just hoping nothing happens
How can you say it's all just in my head
From morning to night I'm in an endless fight
And I can't get this girl out of my mind
How can you say it's all just in my head

Can you hear it
Can you sing it
Can you feel it
Can you scream it

Picking up the pieces she's not waiting around for me
'Cause every chance she gets she'll take away my winning Streak
And it seems I'm not the same at all Shes got a heart of glass and she's not getting younger
'Cause every chance she'll get she'll take away my thunder
And it seems I'm not the same at all

Can you hear it
Can you sing it
Can you feel it
Can you scream it

Please don't do this
I'm halfway there
And don't tell me how to feel

From morning to night I'm in an endless fight
And I can't get this girl out of my mind
How can you say it's all just in my head

Can you hear it
Can you sing it
Can you feel it
Can you scream it
