Turn up the noise and watch it come to me.
These static toys are all I really need.
To find love in perfect pixel symmetry.
It's all I ever need.

Long nights, low lights.
I cling to my digital lights.
Some say I might become something minimal.

Come see my future in the glowing screen.
Mini words and zeros all composed for me.
It's all here my non-mechanical machine.
It's all I ever need.

Long nights, low lights.
I cling to my digital lights.
Some say I might become something minimal.
I know I'm right,
I cling to my digital lights.
You say, I might become something minimal.

Tune me in.
My souls remote is the television light at ten.
Just push record.
It's a quick decision when I'm gone.
I'll take the password so you can get into my thoughts.
I know what you might see.

Turn up the noise and watch it come to me.
These static toys are all I really need.
To find love in perfect pixel symmetry.
It's all I ever need.
It's all I ever need.

Long nights, low lights.
I cling to my digital lights.
Some say I might become something minimal.
I know I'm right,
I cling to my digital lights.
You say, I might become something minimal.
