I saw you by the old streetlight
with an overcoat on.
Searching for a firefly,
and now you're gone.
You wanted me to know
what it's wings look like when they began to ignite.

And when we said goodbye.
I didn't know if that would be the last time.
I said goodnight tonight.
I'm learning it's all right to say goodbye.

It's underneath the starry sky
where the river bends.
It's in the middle of July
where the road just ends.
When silence kills the sound,
late at night,
you're in my line of sight.

And when we said goodbye.
I didn't know if that would be the last time.
I said goodnight tonight.
I'm learning it's all right to say goodbye.
