The children marching side by side
Recording their joy as they stride and glide
The little boy went to her home and dare
He adored but she didnâ€™t care

Now I read between the lines
Wrote by sugar blode and wine
Now I read between the lines
Wrote by lonely tears of time

I cry myself to sleep at night
It mustâ€™ve been another manâ€™s life
Painful memories are all I have
My blood is drowning to the wine

Now I read between the lines
Wrote by sugar blode and wine
Now I read between the lines
Wrote by lonely tears of time
