I will watch you go down with your plastic face laughing all the way
I will watch you fall down with your plastic heart laughing it all out Nothing colder then an old friend betrayal has it's in Like with such a trip and a little trick who wouldn't do what you do

You're not gonna save me
There's so much I've left here lately
So unfortunately
Luck has surely kicked me

Your nitrous secret seems all this treatment got burnt up in the threes it's nothing to take it apart when you build it at a higher Rate than one could ever debate and when we're in the mood for a twisting tale the kind of curves that makes the man's ruin hurt I'm on The bottom but I'm looking up just as a broken worth becomes a shattered rut and like a little kill just here and there no one will Notice if they're not aware I can tell it's nothing for you to let it all go when your guilt is obsession at the next highest level and
In your final release there is nothing that sweet the kind that makes the ruin of man repeat now go become your place hide within the Walls of yourself this is shameface

You're not really with me There's so much I've been through lately
So unfortunately
Luck has surely kicked me you're not gonna save me
There's so much I've left here lately
So unfortunately
Luck has surely kicked me
