I can tell by your last five phone calls that you're gonna raise hell with me tonight Same old stupid conversation, another perfect evening ruined by a jealous fight I never want to hear your voice again, because to me its only noise
I hope you stay away

I can tell by the voicemails I've received, something's going on, you're trying to blame it all on me I know who's sleeping up in your bed I tore our pictures down, and burnt the sheets that caught our sweat

I never want to hear your voice, because you me it's only noise.
I hope you stay away.

And when the radio plays this song, i hope you can't help but sing along when the radio plays this song, i hope you can't help but sing along.

You should know the love you've wasted
It isn't coming back, you'll never find a love like me You'll never get me out of your head I wrote this song for you and made it so you can't forget

i never want to hear your voice, cause to me, it's only noise.
I hope you stay away.

And when the radio plays this song, i hope you can't help but sing along
when the radio plays this song, i hope you can't help
but sing along.

Now we say goodbye
Now we say goodbye
As your words imploded

you never showed it (now we say goodbye)
no attention
You never noticed how you really made me feel inside.
(Now we say goodbye)
Now it isn't worth remembering
I think it's time to forget.

When the radio plays this song, I hope you can't help
but sing along
When the radio plays this song, I hope you can't help but sing along.
