Let the music get into you, feel the rhythm as it starts
to fill you,
Do you want to, do you want to?
Press your hands against mine,
We're making sparks and they're bound to ignite flames to keep us warm forever.
Don't stop 'cause it's now or never,
We fight the feeling but we just surrender to the things
we fear the most in life

Close your eyes and fall in love again
Hold your breath and fall in love again

Spinning around, we're going down but up in flames
tonight,
My bleeding heart can't put this out.
And I didn't want to fall apart again (Sweetheart before you lose me tell me you love me
truly)

I've always known that it's hard to move you,
I'd give my life for the words to soothe you,
Still they'd end up trapped behind my lips.
Oh baby, how you leave me tongue-tied,
You've got me wishing I could stay the whole night.
I'm afraid to fall in love with you.

We all need a reason to just let go, we wait for a moment that might not show.
Always looking ahead instead of looking around,
Always looking for something that's already found.
(Sweetheart before you lose me tell me you love me
truly)

Set me up to break my heart again.
Didn't wanna fall, didn't wanna fall, didn't wanna fall in love again.
Sweetheart before you lose me tell me you love me
truly.
