the stars that winked at me while you were hold me tight here in the night
it's just right for love

the moon shines down upon us and sets it right tonight's the night

there is magic in the air all around us everywhere the whisper of the thieves in the night keeps whispering, telling me that it's alright

my heart sings a melody of our love tonight
please come and kiss me
for love
for love...
