Lets go! Back to -94.
I was hit by a bullet and roared
- "I'm too young to die, I'm to young to die" TO YOUNG TO DIE!
Look at us and observe how we fight,
fight for your nation and fight for your flags.
Here we go!

Been writing all these words, to make you see, that I am careless.
So won't you let me know and be my piece of letting go.

We're always on the verge of losing our minds. Should
we just let go?
We'd end up broken down so we're playing games.

This was not what we were fighting for. I can't believe
it's happening
behind the curtains that we helped BUILD UP!
We will not stop nor will we give up,
until we are sure that you are getting what is coming to
you.

See how ashes, disappear in the wind,
flags burned down to nothing.
It all because, it's all because, It all because of you!
When nations fight nations, bring in their guns,
to win a war and take control. Here we go!

Been writing all these words, to make you see, that I
am careless.
So won't you let me know and be my piece of letting go.

We're always on the verge of losing our minds. Should
we just let go?
We'd end up broken down so we're playing games.

This was not what we were fighting for. I can't believe
it's happening
behind the curtains that we helped BUILD UP!
We will not stop nor will we give up,

until we are sure that you are getting what is coming to
you.

I've been writing all these words just to let you know,
we're always on the verge of losing our minds.

This was not what we were fighting for. I can't believe
it's happening

behind the curtains that we helped BUILD UP!

We will not stop nor will we give up,

until we are sure that you are getting what is coming to
you.
