My heart is cold as ice,
The roses black as the night,
The pitch blackness takes over my mine,
On the inside I scream,
But no one can hear me,
I'm pulling my hair,
And crying out,
All the feelings,
All the emotions,
Are hiding out,
I hide behind this smile,
Like nothings wrong,
All this is happening,
But you wouldn't know,
I talk like everything's ok,
I act like everything is perfectly fine,
But the darkness haunts me,
Through the night and day,
Nobody knows what goes on,
In the pitch blackness of my mind.
