i never took away your crutch just became it day by day blood filling up our booth(?)
whats the use in talking all you wanna do is walk its all you wanna do
and this is how the summer ends
and this is how the summer ends

you never took away my crutch just became it day by day
blood filling up our booth(?)
eyes are open finally
and all you wanna do is walk its all you wanna do do
and this is how the summer ends

And i have the same choices as you do as you do and you fall
fall like i knew you would leave me down down down
leave me down

i never showed you what i want you never told me what you need a match bursting into flames and all is dust soon enough

i have the same choices as you do as you do

he is on your doorstep hes laid down the flowers he's guarding his freezing teeth and you leaving me for hours
