It's her, just her.

Too often now I look at you and I see just a shadow of what you used to be.
(I'm) Struggling now to see something in you that I can respect,
coz you're so hollow, just a shadow.

I'm thinking months ago,
It burned inside of you ??Â“
A need to have someone to control you,
To take everything you are and mould you into somebody else

It's all about her.
It's all about everything she wants from you ??Â“
Not the real you.
You walk on all fours and bow down to her without a care for the real you.
Shut up and break it.
You hate it but can't live without it.
You need it to feed on you, suck the life out of you.
Why are you so scared to stand up and take on the fight?
She's a parasite...
She'll devour you...

It's all about her.
It's all about everything she wants from you ??Â“
Not the real you.
You walk on all fours and bow down to her without a care for what you are.
You're just something for her to mould into something new.
Where's the real you?
