Meiji, taishou, shouwa, heisei
With the strength to live through four generations

There must have been sad times
There must have been happy times
That's your way

I'm coming, I'm coming to see you
On the neverending roads to nagasaki
At the end, I want to see you
At the end, I want to hold your hand
Just like we did when I was little

Someday, you'll probably go far away
Without limits, with all your strength you'll fly high

Right now, I'll sing
Your song, and let my voice ring
During that, for just a little while-- thank you very much
You'll live inside my heart
You'll live...
