(Xavier Decanter/Steve Watt)

This is my homeworld.

The sky is grey, you're feeling so far.
Your heart is cold, you're living moonlife.
You need it somewhere, I call your name.
A million motels, I feel the same. (whoa !)

You need it somewhere, I call your name.
A million motels, I feel the same. (whoa !)

(Instrumental)

You need it somewhere, I call your name.
A million motels, I feel the same. (whoa !)
You need it somewhere, I call your name.
A million motels, I feel the same.
You need it somewhere, I call your name.
A million motels, I feel the same. (whoa !)
