And there'll be flowers baby, for you and me just wait and see, and everyone is gonna come and there be sunshine baby, in every room that afternoon when we get married chorus:

When we get married (When we get married)
When we get married (When we get married) When we get married

And there'll be church bells ringing everywhere and this I swear it's gonna be for you and me and in the chapel baby you wear my ring and everything when we get married I know there'll be some happy tears that day when we are standing side by side and when your daddy gives his little girl away your mamma gonna break right down and cry
