I'm watching you
Make your moves
Building strength
I'm seeing you
Become unglued
Losing faith
& you wear your armour like a glove it's you pouring water on the fire of his love it's true I'm watching you come undone

he gave his all you plucked him from obscurity and he was willing to marry you
wasn't he and you ran faster than I've ever seen you move and you couldn't catch your breath even if you wanted to it's true I'm watching you turning black & blue

he gave his heart and waited for a sign to start but instead
you stayed inside
full of dread
and you wear your armour like a glove and you live a life of push & shove
and you wear your armour like a glove
and don't know the first thing about love it's true I'm watching you have your fun
