Look up look up
The sky is falling
Colors changing
People laughing
In the face of danger

Look out look out
The bruise is swelling
Streets are bleeding
Angels calling
In a time of rescue
The rivers flooding
Boats are sinking
Lights are fading
an attempt to get through
To the ocean of you
All naked & blue
How do you do

Watch out watch out
The fools are fighting
There's love that's dying
An earth that's crying
For the life it once knew
Trace the day
Across all space
To find a smile
Upon your face

I could never replace
The hue of these days
It's just a phase
That we can't sleep
We can only weep
For all we can't keep
We live in dream

Hear this hear this
The record's playing
There's lovers swaying
A town that's praying

For a laugh to see them through
The rocket's lifting
The air is thinning
Shapes are shifting
Oh god but what a view

One for your time
Two for your words
Three for a picture of a four dimensional world
five to live with each other six to sing the same song
seven not to eat them
eight to feel that you belong
nine to let go of fear
ten to hold your vision dear

Look up look up
The sky is falling
Colors changing
People laughing
The bruise is swelling
Angels calling
In a time of rescue
Boats are sinking
The fools are fighting
There's love that's dying
An earth that's crying
For the life it once knew
