There's trouble with sister
You tell her you've missed her
All these years
Piggy in the middle Life is a riddle
enmeshed with fear
Try as you might
It's hard to take flight
when you're at home
Leave to return
Leave & you'll learn
You're not alone

And we've all come a long long way
And we've all got much more to say
Than we have
Than we can
Than we will

A new day is dawning
Night-time is calling
You back to bed
Scratching the surface
Of life with a purpose
Inside your head
You've given your all
And just like before
She'll let you down
The weight of the past
Won't let you pass
She'll laugh then frown

And we've all come a long long way
And we've all got much more to say
Than we have
Than we can
Than we will
