Your silent scream was as loud as your final breath.

The last look in your eyes,
had the look of dispare.
The last thought I won't forget,
'till the end of me.

All the pain you felt,
shitty cards were dealt.
They have no idea and they'll never know the truth
of what happened to you.

They will never find,
the secrets I hide.
They keep searching,
never any luck.

Stop from crying,
they will hear you.
Your too loud,
you'll get me caught.

Fingerprints.
Secret traces.
Blood splatter.
We can't see,
we can't see,
we can't see.

Her silent scream was as loud as her final breath.

You should have seen her,
'lyin there.
You should have heard her,
so scared.
You should have saved her.
You could have helped her,
but now she's gone, away forever.
