

Tough Alliance, The "First Class Riot"

Visit "First Class Riot" on MotoLyrics.com

There's a crowd, talking loud, but they ain't saying nothing Slow and stale, weak and pale, while we're running and laughing Cause there's something else, something bright and pure,
Something that you've never felt before Something you can't touch, something you can't see, you just don't believe

AA-AAAA

Don't you die yet , first class riot
You can't buy it, first class riot

You don't know where to go, still you point out directions
Black and White, so uptight, while we run for perfection Cause there's something else, something bright and
pure,
Something that you've never felt before
Something you can't touch, something you can't
see, you just don't believe

Don't you die yet, first class riot
You can't buy it, first class riot

You can't buy it, first class riot
