I'm still left wondering
Was this too much too fast and honestly
This bed's so cold and this distance is draining
The life out of this boy who's so in love
So here I am all ears this evening
I know you're not exactly used to this feeling
But don't be scared I was once in your shoes
Just let yourself go
You've not a thing to lose

I'm sorry sorry for everything
But this meant so much more to me
And it's too late
To say I know it's wrong
Don't make me wait for o- so long

Where's that girl that I used to know
(Where's that girl that I used to know)
What happened to the world that I used to know

So can I call you when I'm wasted and pour my broke heart out
I just fucking hate it
But you don't know this may not be how you planned it
But you just can't say I don't understand it

I'm sorry sorry for everything
But this ment so much more to me
And it's too late
To say I know it's wrong
Don't make me wait for o- so long
Where's that girl that I used to know
Where's that girl that I used to know
(Where's that girl I used to know)
What happened to the world that I used to know

I can see it in your eyes
You don't really wanna be here
If only I could change your mind,
But you don't really wannna be here
I can see it in your eyes (eyes)

If only I could change your mind

I'm sorry sorry for everything

But this ment so much more for me

And it's too late to say I know it's wrong

Don't make me wait for o- so long-----
