All the little things that you and I forgot to reconcile. We kept quiet and thought that we could just slide on by.
They build up; they build up in my mind.

All I know is you and I
are never gonna make it if we pass our time
fussing and fighting; who's wrong and who's right?
At the end of the night I just don't feel right knowingâ€¦

My greatest mistake was the time that I turned and
walked away,
was the time that I had a lot to say
and shrugged it off like nothing.
I shrugged it off like nothing.

One two, three and what's more,
we lost count, but we both kept score.
No winners, no losers, no real excuses made up,
We made up our minds.

All I know is you and I
are never gonna make it if we pass our time
Fussing and fighting, who's wrong and who's right?
At the end of the night it just don't feel right
knowingâ€¦

My greatest mistake was the time that I turned and
walked away,
was the time that I had a lot to say
and shrugged it off like nothing.
I shrugged it off like nothing.

My greatest mistake was the time that I had a lot to say,
was the time that I had so much to say
and shrugged it off like nothing.
I shrugged it off like nothing.
