for lack of food and drink for lack of anything that might be described as loving for all the wasted time and hope crushed in her eyes for everything that was supposed to save our lives so you're up to the stars or you're down in flames and what bothers me is that to you it's all the same so you'll travel back in time or forward one frame
I'm not strong enough
I can't save us
For lost and better days for worries I can't say for time not well spent in any way and when I fall asleep and wake to autumn days I feel the distress to save our lives
