"With Love, Disaster"

look around you
what you see here, it's all I've got to give
find a reason to leave me I can't take this again
say you need me
say that you care
tell me I'll never be alone now I know that it's over try and take this one last poem remember when everything was all we had and it made no difference
it's not over yet
take your time now
rip my heart out
done if before
why stop now?
I know it won't come easier now I know that today can't live on forever more left alone with my own thoughts as I walk out the door it's over.
you're leaving.
can't say I saw it coming.
one more day.
two more nights.
I'll be so far again
