Overtaken from each side
Temptation I can't deny
Whispering in sweet demise is my two wives
One says love and turn a cheek
One says kill them while they sleep
Both a promise I might keep to my two wives

The love they take, my heart can't break
'Cause I don't feel a thing
The choice I live, the life I give
I don't feel a thing

Look things over through their eyes
Babies breath or kitchen knives
I can't tell which one will lie
It's my two wives
Sometimes they make perfect sense
Their reward my consequence
It's not me to my defense
It's my two wives

The love they take, my heart can't break
'Cause I don't feel a thing
The choice I live, the life I give
It don't mean a thing
And all the words they say to me
I don't mean a thing
The love they take my heart can't break
'Cause I don't feel a thing
