[this song is emo, if u dont like emo songs than dont read it]

Down to earth, hear the cries
Lay to sleep, die tonight
Cause no one really understands
And no one really feels like me
Tie a knot, pull it tight
Kick the chair, from up high
Cause I cant take much more
And I cant live forever

And I can't take back, anything that ive already done
And I can't change now, the damage is already done
With one last look, of you picture sitting by my side
And one last tear, drips from my bloodshot eyes

But one last thing, before I try
One last word, to make you cry
And one last word, the word goodbye
And you just don't, don't see why
But by the time, you read this
And by the time you find me
My heart will have stopped,
But still your kiss could free me,

And I can't take back, anything that ive already done
And I can't change now, the damage is already done
With one last look, of you picture sitting by my side
And one last tear, drips from my bloodshot eyes, and I cried

But reach out n throw me your hand
Before I hit solid ground
You can help me turn my life around
You can change this from a suicidal romance

And I can't take back, anything that ive already done
And I can't change now, the damage is already done
But you can save me before the war is won
And u can take me home n u can love meâ€¦!â€¦!â€¦!
