I forgot what I was even thinking then
I been talking so much nonsense
And the way in which you left me
Made me think we don't even make sense
And I would of called you back and that I tried but the words they didn't come out
So, I guess I think its best we just leave it there.

Oh, that dont surprise me
Not for one second baby
I wanna pick it up back where we started
And If the answers maybe
I'll say definitely
I wanna pick it up back where we started

I wouldn't of even thought our paths would of crossed
In fact, it seems our friendships cheating
And we've just been caught in the act
And after spillages and stolen snouts
It suddenly dawned upon me
That it aint like this, and we don't make sense
In fact your nothing like me

Oh, that dont surprise me
Not for one second baby
I wanna pick it up back where we started
And if the answers maybe
I'll say definitely
I wanna pick it up back where we started

Oh back where we started
I wanna pick it up back where we started
Oh back where we started
I wanna pick it up back where we started

Can we forget tonight and go back where we started?
Can we forget tonight and go back where we started?
Oh Oh
Can we forget tonight and go back where we started?
Oh Oh
Can we forget tonight

Oh, that dont surprise me
Not for one second baby
I wanna pick it up back where we started
And if the answers maybe
I'll say definitely
I wanna pick it up back where we started

Oh, that dont surprise me
Not for one second baby
I wanna pick it up back where we started
And if the answers maybe
I'll say definitely
I wanna pick it up back where we started
