I still watch you
It's not the right thing to do
And I
I can't have you again

We were running from the light
We knew who we had left behind
You thrill me,
You thrill me

You say
No sleeping in this house
No screaming in my eyes
No screaming when you shout

You said
No sleeping in this house
No leaving from this house

You were trying to hold me down
Still you don't know you were not there

And you told me
that she would never know
And you told me
that she would never know

I hated watching you grow old
I hated watching you grow old
I'm now sitting there in the room
Where they left you to grow

And I
I can't have you again
And I still watch you
It's not the right thing to do

You say
No sleeping in this house
No screaming in my eyes
No screaming when you shout

You said
No sleeping in this house
No leaving from this house

You were trying to hold me down
Still you don't know you were not there

I'm still sitting there in the place
Where they left you to grow
You thrilled me
You thrilled me
I'm still sitting there in the room
Where they left you to grow
And we were in the new low
We were in the new low

I'm still sitting there in the place
You thrill me
You thrill me

And I still watch you
And I still watch you
I still want you
