

Twilight Singers, The "Be Invited"

Once the feeling comes you play the part break the heart
till you feel alive scratch through the ceiling you love to have your fun behind the gun
until the fever dies and.....

theres something at work here (3X)
dark circles around your body soon you'll be stealing from the odds and ends

who once were friends
now you demonize

back to the meaning of the way you are you crash the car to make the fever rise

shiftless inside your guise well lay the card that bears upon what used to be a lie slips your aching heart now once again without within we'll come to be invited
