What's the worse that can happen?
Snowballs melt from the sunlight that's captured.
Once an honest mistake proves that lieing is fake.
All the memories become fractured.

Invisibility kills the heart,
and through our bleeding we are one.
Where else would we go, our strength not shown.
Come with me or on your own.

(Chorus)
Come with me into the fall of winter
Follow me into the reflection of the snow.
More memories become thicker.
Because of winter, love is what I own.
