Stop my hands from shakin
Stop these lies from making me push you away.
Summer's almost over
& We're both one year older
What i'd give for another day

Then it all came crashing down
When i reach there's noone around

It's your eyes & your smile that hurt everytime x2

So i sit here thinking,

On the verge of drinking your memory away
Spend my time daydreaming
The sun, the sweat, the feeling
What i'd give for another day

Then it all came crashing down
When i reach there's noone around

It's your eyes & your smile that hurt everytime x2
