Nothing from nothing will I be
Oh, please remember me
Let dust be dust and bones be bones
I let the angels see me home

When there is nothing more to tell
Start all over again, my bell
But if should come to final song
I let the angels see me home

Mama cook some supper again
Papa put the coffee on
Brother and sister, trust I'm not alone
I let the angels see me home

You let the loudest whistle blow
Bang the drums, blow the horns
Sound of trumpets so they know
I let the angels see me home

Bottoms up, don't spill a drop, my friends
Have another one for me
'Cause I don't need the booze were I'm going
I let the angels see me home

Believe me, please be strong
I let the angels see me home
Believe me, please be strong
I let the angels see me home

Mama cook some supper again
Papa put the coffee on
Brother and sister, trust me I'm not alone
I let the angels see me home

Bottoms up, don't spill a drop, my friends
Have another one for me
'Cause I don't need the booze were I'm going
I let the angels see me home
I let the angels see me home
I let the angels see me home
