float from the bed, the sun is out again into the cave, the echo knows all languages you'll need a helmet light, to see the gysum flowers our pools are swimming and reflecting what you dream and there's a strange device, sitting all alone exchanging ever flowing signals with the deep we're bridging the chasm's heights here in the underground with our metal fellow accidental frequency so just follow the (follow the, follow the) sound li la li la li la lo (2x)

darkness has a softer side we've come to know through idle conversation don't you feel the change that's coming flirt with the rain, the sea is calm again into the cave, and wake us from this sleeping game a song as old as light, but second to a sound show us your hidden power and we'll tell you what it is follow that strange device, still sitting all alone exchanging ever flowing signals with the deep that's our cave radio as above is so below, opening up the channels putting a sound into a frequency that is its sole power yeah, we've pulled it from a delinquency to travel a thousand miles an hour you can come out, it's safe so be attuned, because our signal is on its way up

she likes to show to balance her equations don't you feel the change that's coming as above is so below (repeat and add:) opening up the channels (3x)

just follow the sound
