Despite what you may have heard
This is paradise on earth
Go back to sleep. We're in control
There's really nothing you can add
Go back to sleep. We're in control
There's really nothing you can change
In fact, it's better if you don't try

And when you see through our first lie
We give you just another lie
And when you see through that new lie
We give you just another, just another lie

Look for love on the internet
And find your best friends on TV
I'm sure you see we did our best
To make it all feel very real

And when you see through our first lie
We give you just another lie
And when you see through that new lie
We give you just another, just another lie
[x2]

Go back to sleep. We're in control
There's really nothing you can change
In fact, it's better if you don't try

And when you see through our first lie
We give you just another lie
And when you see through that new lie
We give you just another, just another lie
[x2]

(Go back to sleep) [x12]

Go back to sleep. We're in control
There's really nothing you can change
In fact, it's better if you don't try
