Your touch, his feeling it's going farther away don't stop, its about to end everything you try and to defend and everything is going farther and farther and down away

shouldn't have gone that day

it's all beginning to depart our ways we've been here for almost everyday and we'll all be screaming here behind closed doors shouldn't have gone away

your love, his future its falling down away one more feeling's got to last everyday his heart will beat fast and everything is going farther and farther and down

and we'll all be screaming here behind closed doors

every little thing, every little thing every little thing that you have to say every little thing, every little thing is falling away

and you shouldn't have gone
