He's seen it all before, he's been there and back Lived his life with scum on the wrong side of the track
He can't take it any more, got nothing at all Realizes that he's got nowhere to fall

Stand on your feet and fight to take it back Stand up again get yourself on the right track Stand for yourself, don't fall over the edge Stand, I'll be there 'till the very end

Wants to clean himself around but old habits, they die hard
He fought through it all, he found through it all, he fought to keep his head straight but he'll never escape
