Uranium

"The Man Who Thought God Was Alive"

THE MAN WHO THOUGHT GOD WAS ALIVE - URANIUM
(Lyrics: Andre Rodriguez. Music: Uranium)

When every men were by themselves
Everything was broken, dark, and gone along with God.
There was a man, who still believed,
That asked God how could He allow this.
"Should I believe?"
Thoughts were roaming inside his mind
Thoughts of leaving God Behindâ€¦
And let Him die (Let Him Die).

"He's not there,
But if He's not my soul
Will be empty and scared"

His time has come, to say Good-bye
He prayed and then he died.
Everything's wrong inside his mind
The Man Who Thought, God Was Alive.

Hiding what's really in his mind,
And fearing of being wrong this time. "Is He really alive?"
Pulling his faith away,
When chaos has reign and a bloody dust
Has covered the skies.
But pain was deep enough,
And that sorrow killed his sense of life,
His will to fight (Will to Fight).

"How could You?
Let us die and let our soulsâ€¦
Behind"

His time has come, to say Good-bye
He prayed and then he died.
Everything's wrong inside his mind
The Man Who Thought, God Was Alive.

â€¦Was Alive!

(Scream)
(Solos)

His time has come, to say Good-bye
He prayed and then he died.
(DIE!)
Everything's wrong inside his mind
The Man Who Thought, God Was Alive.

God was aliveâ€¦