Something in the air
There's something in the atmosphere
And gravity will always win
I'm in too deep, I'm falling

In this moment I am lost
Time's frozen
You steal my heart
The planets stop and I am stolen

And you make me breathe
And this sanctuary
Is calling me

And I would cross a thousand seas
If you could be near to me
Will angels voices draw me in

And everything is meant to be
The stars and whispers beckon me
And gravity will always win
I'm in too deep, I'm falling

And you make me breathe
And this sanctuary
Is calling me

And you make me breathe
And this sanctuary
Is calling me
