"We Have Landed"

I don't mind if seagulls left the sky
I've seen them fly
Winds of change, scalds us like a blade
Deep through my spine

We have landed
This very moment in time
The past has gone my love
And all we have is now
Now

Recognise the pity in my eyes
They once were blue
I can't remember the smell of days in spring
Tell me now, can you?

We have landed
This very moment in time
The past has gone my love
And all we have is now

Cos we have landed
This very moment in time
The past has gone my love
And all we have is now
Now

We have landed
This very moment in time
The past has gone my love
And all we have is now
Now
Now
Now
Where's everybody gone
