You're as right as can be, complaining about me
I'm an asshole from time to time
But believe what I say, it shouldn't be this way
I don't want to make you whine
I gotta think what I think, and feel what I feel
Even though it's not appropriate
Every minute and hour I'm spending with you is oh so great

It's a long way home, but I'll help you through it
You won't be walking alone
When times are hard and don't seem to make sense
I'll help you carry on

I'm as right as can be, you're complaining about me
And I know the reason why
I'm sick and tired, about to give up
What I have in mind
I gotta think what I think, and feel what I feel
Even though it's not appropriate
Every minute and hour I'm spending with you is oh so

It's a long way home, but I'll help you through it
You won't be walking alone
When times are hard and don't seem to make sense
I'll help you carry on
