

For The Broken

"Borealis"

You left me with no room to grow
So where do I go, where do I go
Take me with you to the other side
Because there's nothing left here

It's so hard to find a little peace of mind
Just take a breath and watch me go
Hear me, I'm screaming at the lights before the end comes near
Just lift me from the ground and take me with you
It's sinking in my skin
And crawling through my veins
Oh God they're in my head
Just take them out

It's so hard to find a little peace of mind
Just take a breath and watch me go
Oh god, save me from my sin!
