What he won't know won't hurt him
Trust me, c'mon you know it feels all right
Lets make some bad decisions tonight
Tonight we're making something, but it's the furthest thing from love (tonight we're making something)
I'll tell you things so far from true
Because I know it's what you want to hear
It's nothing new to me or you
But there will be no sleeping
I'm not looking for love between my sheets
Because love is known to wear and tear
Just a checkmark on the months and weeks
(And I don't care, if you don't care)
Mr. Curtis was right and love can tear us apart
So lets "Marvin Gaye" and just get it on Don't worry about leaving so soon
You wouldn't want to stay with a hack like me
Every line is stolen
