Speaking of luck
I'm against all the odds not even you
No, not even you
No, not even God
Could convince me that I'm not a fraud
Well they tell me to get it together
It's either my head or it's the weather
But suddenly it's so very clear
I've got to get the hell out of here
I'm skipping town
Won't see me around

Oh I never said that I would stay
Through shorter nights and longest days
Oh I never said that I would stay
I'm laughing at you as I drive away
I never said that I would stay
The shorter nights and the longer days
Oh I never said that I would stay

This funeral moon is setting soon
It's falling fast and I am too
Don't follow me without thinking it through
I'm always out before I'm down
Got to wonder why you kept me around
No need to worry now
I've tangled my ties
Now I'm skipping town
I'm skipping town
Won't see me around

Oh I never said that I would stay
Through shorter nights and longest days
Oh I never said that I would stay
I'm laughing at you as I drive away
I never said that I would stay
The shorter nights and the longer days
Oh I never said that I would stay

I'm seeing it I'm losing it
I'm feeling my faith fall through the cracks
Though I was told to say my prayers

I lied
I never want it back
And if you think I've been misled
Please take my soul and not my head
For the last two years I've traveled the wrong track
I never said that I would want to stay

Oh I never said that I would stay
I'm laughing at you as I drive away
I never said that I would stay
The shorter nights and the longer days
Oh I never said that I would stay

I'm skipping town
Won't see me around
