Sometimes, without a reason, it feels like nothing else
The world seems to be wild at heart
And I'm a part of it.
Never ending sorrow, never ending pain
Take this pressure away from me, take it away from me.
Looking for the meaning of the meaning
What is this all for? What is it all for?

Sometimes without a reason, it feels like nothing else.
Sometimes without a reason, it feels like nothing else.
Like nothing else.

High tension mixes up with incredible boredom
You are still surviving
Sucking the rest of gleaming hope directly out of me
To spit it into fire.

Sometimes without a reason, it feels like nothing else.
Sometimes without a reason, it feels like nothing else.
Like nothing else.

And you are still surviving
Yes, you are still surviving
Yes, you are still surviving
To spit it into fire. Into fire. Into fire
