Song by Caroline's Spine

I wake up every morning jumping at whistles come rain or shine my spirit, it goes through the motions they need a number to identify when I look out on the horizon I see far beyond this place called home every time I try to explain it I end up feeling so alone you don't want to walk in my shoes beneath all this envy green I'm varsity blue

varsity blue...

I try to shake my daily routine I gotta escape from their watchful eyes 'cause I'm not sure if this is about me or if they're reliving glory days gone by

you don't want to walk in my shoes
beneath all this envy green
I'm varsity blue
varsity blue...

if I let your games ruin our relation we build the foundation of the pedestal they put us on and if you can, try to understand me because sooner or later this will all be gone

you don't want to walk in my shoes
I'm varsity blue
varsity blue...
