You said you needed time alone
Time to find yourself
I've found myself broken without you and all I can do is hope

I loved you for what it's worth.. You cut me to shreds

I loved you for what it's worth
You cut me to shreds
And what's running through your head?
Your heart is dead

What a murderous web we weave
You pull on my heart strings ignoring what it brings

I loved you for what it's worth... You cut me to shreds

I loved you for what it's worth
You cut me to shreds
And what's running through your head?
Your heart is dead

I'll lock you in a room in your white dress
Forever refusing to see the stains

I've been cut down, I've been cut down
I've been cut down, I've been cut...down

Say that our love was worth it all...

I loved you for what it's worth
You cut me to shreds
And what's running through your head?
Your heart is dead

I loved you, that's all done
I've moved on, I've moved on, I've moved on...

Gorgeous, do you hear?
Do you hear me?
I need you more than you know. What for? [x2]

All that I wanted was all that I have
I gave more than I should
I bide myself for my own good
I found out what you were
