"Screams Are The Passion Of Feelings Overlooked"

The sun never rose this morning
History has been blurred
Words have lost their meanings
Like us, we have all clearly lost our meanings

Screams are... the passion... of feelings... overlooked

We're only guaranteed one thing in life
A death certificate
Every where you go, tragedy
It will find you

Screams are... the passion... of feelings... overlooked

Say to me that we both breath the same
'cause I know my blood flow won't move the same
Can't move the same

The roads have caved in
And we can't take this anymore
I can't take this anymore

Hold your breath and close your eyes
In time, everything will...it all will die
