Back and forth you wander
Through your mind
Winter's passing over
But it won't find you

Take what you can
Change the season

Isolate yourself and you will find
There's no rhyme or reason
That it won't find you

Take what you can
Change the seasons
The changing of the seasons is here now
The changing of the seasons is here now
Is here now

Back and forth you wander
Through your mind
Winter's passing over
But I don't mind

Pressures that you're under will subside
There's no time to ponder
'Cause it won't find you

Take what you can
Change the seasons
The changing of the seasons is here now
The changing of the seasons is here now
Is here now

And I will find you
Although I wonder
If I will climb through
This rock I'm under

I'm turning the page for something new
I'm finding my way through life in bloom

The changing of the seasons is here now
The changing of the seasons is here now
Is here now
Is here now

I'm turning the page for something new
I'm finding my way through life in bloom
