When my time has come
I won't put up a fight
I'll hold my breath and let it wash over me
And all the words we said
All the words we said
Have a way of rubbing off
But i said them so your courage could come back
And stay back
Stay back
When i am, i can
They're all waiting for me
These eyes, these hands
Let them wash over me
And all the words we said
All the words we said
Have a way of rubbing off
But i said them so your courage could come backand run to your room while you're weeping
I'll see you in your bed while you're sleeping
Well, farewell
I won't hold you down
No, i'll heal the cracks in your head
Heal the cracks in your head
Stay back
