You're a little obsessed with me,
And I'm a little bit scared of you,
The way you look and stare at me.
Maybe, it's time I let you know!

You could call me six times
But still I won't pick up the phone!
You could spend all your money on me
But still I'll say "no!"
You could write a million letters everyday
Confessing to me
That I am the girl of your dreams,
But nobody ever asked me!
I never looked at you that way,
'Cause I always thought you were gay..

Every time you come around,
You just look me up and down,
And then you try to hold my hand,
I'm confused now, I don't understand.

You could call me six times
But still I won't pick up the phone!
You could spend all your money on me
But still I'll say "no!"
You could write a million letters everyday
Confessing to me
That I am the girl of your dreams,
But nobody ever asked me!
I never looked at you that way,
'Cause I always thought you were gay..

You told me lies, you made me believe
It would be fine
If there was nothing to see.
I'd be undressing in front of you,
I told you secrets
That no one else knew!

You could call me six times
But still I won't pick up the phone!

You could spend all your money on me
But still I'll say "no!"
You could write a million letters everyday
Confessing to me
That I am the girl of your dreams,
But nobody ever asked me!
I never looked at you that way,
'Cause I always thought you were gay..
